The Steven Hill assembly for the students and parents took place on January 29 and we had but seven Hills journey to recovery book for the teachers in the high school. The cost of the books was $125.00.

On Monday, March 2 MAASA attended the community drug training by having a table with information and giveaways. The training was facilitated by Madison Chatham Coalition and is Detective Ken Shannon. They had a great turn out and a lot of parents within the community attended that evening.

In collaboration with the Madison pharmacy we are going to take part in national drug take back day. The national day will be held on April 25, 2020. I have a flyer attached to the email explaining national drug take back today and the purpose of it.

A lot of programming that I have tried to schedule for late spring have been put on hold due to the current circumstances. When I receive updates about programming I will be sending out an email for approval.

I had some things that I was trying to schedule with the senior center in Madison and in collaboration with the Madison health department to try and engage with the adult population. Everything as of now is on hold and I will be having a follow up meeting soon but it has not been rescheduled.

In Madison junior school and Madison high school, I had planned to do presentations based off of substance-abuse topics but it will be rescheduled due to Students not being present and teachers working remotely from home.

Madison high school had reached out to ask if we could try and plan something for the seniors the week before they have prom whether it's presentations for their health classes or tabling during school hours. No dates have been set due to them not being in school.

Our next meeting will be in Wednesday April 15, 2020. It will be a collaboration meeting with Madison Chatham coalition and the municipal alliance committee of the Chatham's. No time or location has been set yet. When I figure out this information I will let you know and send out a calendar request.

If anyone has any questions please feel free to email me and if anyone has anything they would like to add or share please reply all.
